named as defendant in a suit to recover $10,000 damages filed in the District Supreme Court by J. Hassinger Smith for alleged personal injury. He declares he was thrown from a wagon following a collision of a truck of the brewery with his vehicle on the Man-hatten road near Pumpkinstown, Md., January 19 and received serious injury. He says one of the horses attached to his wagon was so hurt that it was necessary to shoot it. Attorneys Hayden Johnson and Leroy

U. S. TO RECLAIM LANDS.

Bill Which Will Give Government 2,300,000 Acres Passes.

The House bill providing for reclamation of the government of 2,300,000 acres of Oregon land granted the Oregon and California railroad, was passed yesterday by the Senate. The lands, valued at about $20,000,000, are alleged to have been forfeited by violations of the terms of the grant, which required their sale to settlers at $2.50 an acre.
Amendments were adopted to provide that 80 per cent of the proceeds of resale should go to the state of Oregon, 10 per cent to the reclamation fund for use in Oregon, and 10 per cent to the federal government.

SAFEGUARDING PENSION ROLLS

Efforts to Stop Claims Not Due to Military Service.

Steps were taken by army officers today to guard against future pension claims for disabilities not incident to military service. Army medical officers were instructed through a bulletin issued by the chief of staff to examine recruits with special care, even though they are enlisted from state militia organizations whose medical standards are equal to those of the United States Army.

Pays $200,000 for a Tapestry.

known as the Delft Crucifixion, which was part of the Pierpont Morgan collection at the Metropolitan Museum, has been purchased by Joseph E. Widener of Philadelphia for $200,000. The Delft Crucifixion once belonged to the Dukes of Alba and Berwick and was designed by the Flemish painter, Bernard Van Orley. It was woven about 1525, in the style of the early renaissance.

FLAG DESECRATION PASTOR PUNISHED

Given Maximum Sentence by Court for Scurrilous Cartoon of Emblem.

DISPLAY AT THE CHURCH OF SOCIAL REVOLUTION

Bouck White, Harvard Graduate, Told by Judges He Ought to Leave the Country.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Police Commissioner Woods ordered today an investigation of the burning last night of an American flag and national emblems of other nations in a "melting pot" suspended on a tripod in the rear of Bouck White's Church of the Social Revolution. The affair was described by White as "the birth of internationalism." It is alleged that the American flag was thrown to the flames by Albert Henkel, described as an artist, who afterward unfurled a banner of "international industrialism."

The police commissioner said today that if the facts were as reported it was "an outrage that should not be tolerated." He directed a deputy to confer with the district attorney, and said if that official believed the participants in the "melting pot" episode should be punished the detectives would obtain the evidence.

White Placed on Trial.

Meantime White was placed on trial on the charge of having desecrated the American flag several weeks ago on circumstances which he caused to be distributed. Before he was arraigned in court he issued a statement, in which he referred to the burning of the flag last night as "the most beautiful expression of his soul." He said he had been "in the melting pot" episode which he described as "the birth of internationalism."

"It consisted," he said, "of melting the flags of the present super-prevalent nationalisms, flags symbolic of the warring nations. By melting them together we hope to unite the world brotherhood which has for the last two years been shedding its blood. It would be the greatest good to this country if like ceremonies were held in every city from here to the Pacific coast."

Admits Description of Cartoon.

The circular bore a cartoon representing the flag lying blood-soaked beneath an "international flag" and with dollar signs in lieu of stars. "I admit the distribution of this cartoon," White said to the court, "but it was only what I had a right to do under the fundamental privilege guaranteed me by the Constitution. I yield to one on my behalf for the noble things in history that the flag stands for. I have gone beyond idealism and in this cartoon have mapped out a way in which mankind can follow and attain to the earth's righteousness for which God stands."

"White was asked if he had not once said that the flag no longer represents idealism, but stands for the vulgar and greediest set of profit-grabbers since history began."

"Ought to Leave Country."

White admitted making this remark, whereupon Justice McInerney said:
"I think if you feel that way about it you had better go and find some country of your own. If you don't believe in America and Old Glory you had better quit this country."

"Thank you for your suggestion," replied the defendant. "Were you educated in America?" he was asked. "Yes, at Harvard University," answered White. "Did you burn the American flag last night?" "Objection to this question was sustained."

The three justices of the court found White guilty without leaving the bench and imposed the maximum penalty.
Justice McInerney added that he regretted "that the term specified in the statutes is insufficient to fit the crime," and Justice McInerney added: "There is no room in America for men who think and act as you do."

Burning Conducted by an "Artist."

The "ceremony" of the flag burning was conducted by Albert Henkel, introduced as "an artist." After the colors had been destroyed Henkel unfurled the banner of "international industrialism."

The flag burning was preceded by services in the church, at which one of the speakers was the Rev. Mercer Green, pastor of the Trinity Episcopal Church at New York. He recently resigned because, he said, some of his vestrymen wanted him to run his church "like a grocery store." He strongly disapproved, however, of the flag-burning part of the program and tried vainly to induce White to prevent it. He then left the church rather than witness what he characterized as "a most damnable business."

know them.

NO matter how long you have worn clothes of another brand, the
